BECKHAM THE GOVERNOR,

So Says the Supreme Court of the United States.

Washington, May 21.—The last to overstep the bounds Democrats win.

The Supreme Court holds that it has no jurisdiction in the Kentucky governorship case, denies the writ of error and dismisses the appeal.

There were four opinions in all, three being read after Chief Justice Fuller's opinion, in which Justices Shiras, Peckham, Gray and White concurred, was delivered.

The opinion by Justice Harlan was the only opinion which dissented from the conclusions of the court. He did not agree in any point with his associates.

Justice McKenna dissented from the reasoning in the case, but concurred in the judgement.

Justice Brewer dissented because he thought that the findings of the lower court should have been affirmed instead of the case being dismissed. Justice Brown concurred in the opinion of Justice Brewer.

The Brewer-Brown opinion, in effect, wished to take jurisdiction and affirm the decision of the Kentucky court.

Chief Justice Fuller in his opinion said that the court should be be exclusive and free from external interference except so far as plainly provided by the Constitution of the United States and where controversies over the election of State offices have reached the State Courts in the manner provided and have been determined in accordance with the State Constitutions and laws the case must necessarily be rare in which the interference of this court can be properly invoked."

While the minor Republican claimants have apparently no pretension to stand, ex-Gov. Bradley declares that they will not give up, but will hold on until their cases have also been passed upon in the Supreme Court.

Immediately after the decision of the Supreme Court, a requisition was sent to Gov. Mount for Finley, and the Governor refused to honor it.

Mr. Taylor is also in Indianapolis. He says that he does not know what he will do, but that he will remain there for the present.

John L. Powers, one of the fugitives under indictment for complicity in the assassination of Gov. Goebel, was arrested in Knox county Tuesday. He sued out a writ of habeas corpus and upon a hearing of the writ, he presented a pardon from Taylor, and the Judge recognized it and turned him loose.

A touching incident of the decision and its developments was the action of several hundred school children at Frankfort, who marched to the cemetery where repose the remains of the martyred Governor Goebel and covered the grave with flowers. The Rev. Lewis Taliaferro offered prayer and Gov. Beckham was also present.

TWO SUITS FILED.

Dr. J. R. Clark Sues The County For Services as Health Officer.

Dr. J. R. Clark has filed suit against the county for his services as health officer from August 1899, to April, 1900. The petition alleges "that during said period of time the plaintiff was actually engaged as such health officer and physician, and for 120 days of said time, during which time there was a seige of said contagion in said county, he devoted exclusively his time as such health officer and physician in an effort to prevent the spread of said contagion and to cure and relieve the sufferers of the same, and that his said service for the one-hundred and twenty days is reasonably worth $5 per day, amounting to $615.00, and that his services as such officer and physician from Aug. 1, 1899, up to Nov. 12, 1899, the date of the commencement of said contagion as aforesaid was reasonably worth $85.00."

The petition states that the claim was presented to the fiscal court, and that court rejected all of it except $190, and a judgement is asked for the full amount.

Mr. C. H. Hill has filed suit against T. J. Yates, administrator of Wm. Hill, deceased. The plaintiff alleges that he owned an undivided one-half interest in the stock of groceries and was associated with the late William Hill in the grocery business at Dyersburg under the firm name of Wm. Hill & Son., at the time of Wm. Hill's death, and that said administrator "without right or authority of law, but over the protests" of the plaintiff, did sell the entire stock of groceries and convert the proceeds to his use as administrator, and judgment is asked for $180—the value of one-half of the stock.

Our industrious friend, Ed. Hayward, was busy Tuesday night burning some brush and trash about his place, and his fire got large enough to raise the fire alarm.

We are indebted to our friend Jim Loovorn, for some of the finest strawberries we have ever seen. Jim is one of the most successful growers of the famous berry in this section, and says that he will show berries with any man in the country.

Last night at the residence of the bride in the Sheridan neighborhood, Mr. T. J. Hamilton and Mrs. Margaret A. Stallions were united in marriage, Rev. W. R. Gibbs officiating. Both are prominent people in that section and the Press joins with their numerous friends in extending best wishes.

RIDING A BUCKING MULE.

A "Puncher's" Adventure From the Indian Territory.

The Century Magazine's prize for the best short story submitted by a college student has been awarded to John
M. Oskison of Leland Stanford University, whose home is in the Indian Territory, and whose blood is partly Indian. "Only the Master Shall Praise" is its title; and one of its scenes is a description of a ride on a bucking mule.

Out of a knot of excited men Hanner went straight to the waiting, restless mule. With a mock air of bravado, he struck the excited mule across the flank with his sombrero, after roughly seizing the reins. No one who has not learned by experience how to mount a plunging horse can understand how Hanner lifted himself out of the chaos of rearing mule and struggling attendants into the saddle before he signed to the men to turn the animal loose.

When the mule found itself free to act there was a momentary pause.
Then began the short, nasty jumps straight into the air, with the animal's back bowed, its legs stiff, and its head lowered. It was the first powerful effort of the angered beast, made with devilish confidence. Hanner was scarcely shaken by these first straight jumps, but then began the twisting series which is the second expedient of a bucking animal. A jump high into the air, with a seemingly impossible twist to the side, landed the mule with its head turned almost half round. Before the rider caught his breath another jump and another half turn were made. These are the motions that make a bronco-buster's life shorter.
Hanner was bleeding at the nose in half a minute. The twisting jumps were continued until the strength of the mule was almost exhausted and as yet only the hat of the puncher had been dislodged. A short pause followed during which the mule changed its tactics and Hanner struck its sweaty neck with his open hand. The next motion was a sudden rearing by the mule. As it rose on its hind legs, the rider yanked fiercely on the reins, and slipping to the ground on one side allowed the brute to fall on its back. The saddle horn buried itself in the earth, and the mule's hoofs beat the air a moment before it scrambled to its feet.

Hanner was cooler than the mule now, and swung himself back into the saddle with the first long leap of the desperate animal. This was the easy, part of the trial for the rider, and the spectacular part for the world. The mule ran straight away for the opposite fence of the fair-grounds with long, lunging jumps, rising and pitching forward with the speed of a racing yacht. Hanner brought his craft about before it sailed into the fence, and bent it fore and aft with a flourishing hand. He was wild with triumph now, his hair blowing in the wind.
He leaned forward as in a race, nrging
the thoroughly tired and conquered mule straight for the crowd.
A particularly vicious dig with the spurs made the beast plunge into the scattering knot of spectators and rise to a four-barred gate. At the opposite side of the track no fence barred its way, and it ran, frightened and quivering under the awning of a lemonade-vender's stand, scattering glasses and confections to the winds, and wrecking the stand. Hanner slowly dismounted, stroked the sweaty flank of the subdued mule, then turning and picking up an unbroken bottle of soda, proposed a toast "to our gentle old family-bruyz horse!"

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scurvy and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches.
You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by R. F. Haynes.

The Tell Tale Corner.

Happening Among the Young People.

CURIOSITY, AS EXEMPLIFIED IN I. J. V. Q., V. L., AND H. W.

Curiosity. Such a term, and this is only applied to such people as have the following characteristics: First, they are always making every body's business their business. They want nothing to take place without their knowing all about it, all circumstances pertaining thereto. They take especial pains to find out other's secrets. No matter what the penalty may be.

This is plainly shown by two of these youngsters, who, when their big sisters have a beau, they feel no hesitancy in standing quietly outside the parlor doors—dropping, for fear something may be said that they will not know all about. The other youngster having no big sister, suffices her curiosity by prying into her big brother's desk, thereby obtaining much information from valuable papers written by noted and intelligent persons.

One of these being sadly and miserably dissatisfied by overhearing many conversations, even went so far as to stand on a stair case and look through a transom to see if she could secure any better results from watching the movements of a certain young couple.

The fourth youngster is the most curious and prying of all, and through his cunning and cat-like shrewdness, which we cannot help but admire for its brilliancy and boldness has never been surpassed by the most renown sleuths, many matters of grave importance to The Tell Tale editors have been exposed to the inquisitive eye of the public and he looks with a suspicious eye on all whom he thinks might be connected with The Tell Tale Corner. But his day of retribution will come.

We cannot but notice that these youngsters have taken incomprehensible means of finding out the editors of The Tell Tale Corner, which deed they will doubtless repeat e'er many morns pass. Many and more startling examples might easily be given, but for our sakes only we refrain.

Knowing the evil effects of this degrading spirit we trust that these mentioned will do their best for the improvement of their growing habit.

Edited by three of them.

Ed. Chittenden spent several days last week, in this city, but while many of his numerous friends had the pleasure of seeing him, most of his time was spent with a very dear friend on Depot street.

Chastian Haynes still carries his arm in a sling. For several months Chastian has been deprived of the use of his mighty right arm, but we hope that he may soon cast aside the emblem of affliction and relieve Henry of his two-fold work.

Charles Moore is now seen down Salem street quite often. He never gets beyond the Methodist parsonage though.

One of Livingston's most beautiful young belle's, Miss Allie Butler, graced Marion with her presence last week.

Oliver Hurley basks in the warm sunshine while his stately steeds amuse themselves by traveling back and from the depot.

Frank Jacobs and John Travis were not in town Sunday afternoon. As to their whereabouts, we refer you to the liveryman.

Marion is now looking forward with pleasure to the day when Allen Paris, Jim Bigham and Emmet Koltinsky shall make their mark in the world as singers.

If you should be asked as to how James Travis is spending vacation, just inform the inquiring friend that he is passing these long beautiful summer days in the companionship of the saw, hammer, plane and chisel.

Saturday afternoon Dr. Will Clifton was seen hugging the lamp post at the corner of Main and Depot streets, his face illuminated by a saint-like smile, conversing with a popular and attractive young lady school teacher.

Miss Kathie Woods originated and worked successfully a scheme several days ago that completely eclipses the wonderful scheme of Cyrus in his overthrow of Babylon and no plot, plan or scheme of the matchless Napoleon, can in any way be called its equal. We advised the young lady to get a copy right at once, and therefore withhold the publication of the scheme.

From 2 o'clock until dusk on Sunday afternoon, the principal thoroughfares of our city seem to be transformed into the beautiful boulevards of Paris, for in every direction bright vehicles of all styles, carrying happy couples over the city at a delightful rate, can be seen. A stranger coming to the city on that afternoon does certainly realize the fact that Kentucky is the home of pretty women, brave men and thoroughbred horses.

Mr. Walter Walker, being a very determined sort of youth, has time after time made attempts to rise early and go to the river to fish, but he utterly failed, and became disheartened. But on Wednesday evening he renewed his energies and devised a way in which he could get an early start. He asked his grandfather, who had always been an early riser, to wake him at three o'clock so he could be sure to be off by six. After being called, and by extraordinary efforts he managed to accomplish his purpose. Let us hope that the young man will out grow this habit of late rising.

ISSUED WEEKLY.

ONE YEAR ONE DOLLAR

It wasn't 16 to 1, but 8 to 1 will do in this case.

The governor of Indiana seems to be a pretty high Mount.

Now let the soldiers retire and may they stay at home forever and a day.

The L. & N. will not be in the next Democratic State convention and we may look for more pacific proceedings.

Now that the great question is settled for the present few moments let us not forget that this is the time of year to work the public roads.

With the coal mines, and spar mines and zinc mines and lead mines in operation, and the iron ores to fall back upon, we ought to be fairly in it this year.

The Senate declined to extend the courtesies of the floor of that august body to the Boer envoys. That body is so straight on neutrality lines, that it is making backward curves in its spinal cord.

Admiral Dewey has completed his swing around the circle, and has seen it clearly demonstrated that he is popular as a hero, but let him tackle the public as a candidate, and then and then.

Neither the courts of Kentucky nor public sentiment would permit Mr. Finley or any other man charged with the assassination of Gov. Goebel to be unjustly punished. There is no disposition in the Democrat party to harm a single hair of any innocent man's head.

Judge Joseph H. Lewis says that if his party calls upon him he will make the race for governor. If it develops that Gov. Beckham is ineligible on account of that provision of the constitution in making the governor ineligible to succeed himself, no better or more available man than Judge Lewis could be found. But Gov. Beckham has demonstrated his capacity under the most trying conditions and is entitled to anything the party has.

There seems to be a strong disposition among three of the leading churches, in these years of evolution or revolution to stand by some of the old landmarks. The Southern Baptist convention passed strong resolutions on the liquor question, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church has before it a resolution standing by the Sabbath and the General Conference of the Methodist church has a sweeping resolution maintaining its old stand on card-playing, dancing and theatre going. It is encouraging to see the church stand firm on the things that made our fathers what they are, even if the state is disposed to wibble a little.

An audience remarkable for its size, sympathy and enthusiasm greeted the Boer envoys at Washington Sunday night. While there was no official representation thirty members of the Senate and House were at the gathering and listened to the speeches, which are reported by the papers as sensational. Some of the speakers declared that nine-tenths of the American people sympathized with the Boers in their struggle for liberty. At the close of the meeting a collection was taken for the benefit of the widows and orphans of the Boers, and a round sum was raised. Whatever the environments may force those who may represent officially this country to remain silent, and for reasons of state go hand in hand with England, the mighty, the struggling people of the little republic in the far away country have the sympathy of the masses of free America.

THE NEW MINES.

Mr. J. C. Millar, the purchaser of the Franklin survey of mineral lands, is in town. He informs us that he expects to begin developing the mines at once, and already has a force of hands at work; the necessary machinery will be put in without delay. Mr. Millar is a practical miner, having been engaged in all departments of the business for years. He has considerable mining interest at Birmingham, Ala., and is by no means a novice in the business. He has great faith in this section, and is confident of finding lead, zinc and spar in paying quantities on his property.

OFFICIAL CALL.

The Congressional Executive Committee Will Meet at Paducah May 26.

Fulton, Ky., May 20.—The democratic executive committee of the First Congressional district of Kentucky, composed of the chairmen of the thirteen counties of said district, to convene at the Palmer House in the city of Paducah, on the 26th day of May, 1900, at 2 o'clock p.m. MOTT AVRES, Chmn.

GROOM IN JAIL.

Charged With Disposing of a Horse
That was not his.

The old county of Livingston comes to the front with another sensation. Yesterday one week ago John Tucker, the son of a well-known farmer who resides near Birdsville, was united in marriage to Miss Minnie Bell. The groom is seventeen and the bride only thirteen.

The young groom was arrested in Cadiz and at once conveyed to the nearest railroad station on the charge of horse stealing. The officer took him over from Calvert City yesterday afternoon to Smithland. His bride came down from Linton, Trigg county, last night on the steamer Bottord and stopped off at Smithland.

The story is as to the charge against Tucker that he hired a horse and buggy several days ago from Mr. C. B. Davis, at Smithland.

On the way to Marion, Crittenden county, he traded the horse for another and received $12 additional in the deal. At Marion he sold the horse and buggy for $20 and purchased tickets for himself and wife to Princeton. At Princeton he went broke in a crap game, it is alleged, and he and his wife walked for two days and nights to Linton, a small town in Trigg county on the Cumberland river, where he was arrested.—Paducah News.

THE ECLIPSE

Of the Sun to Occur on May 28,
Beginning at 6:30 A. M.

The Obscuration to Be Nine-Tenths Total Lasting Two Hours.

It will be remembered that there is to be an eclipse of the sun to occur May 28, commencing at 6:30 in the morning. It is said that Louisville will have a good view of it. It will be nine-tenths total and will continue for two hours and ten minutes.

It is known that the difference in time between Louisville and Marion aggregate ten minutes and what difference this will make in the view at Marion as compared with Louisville is not stated. Major H. B. Hersey, local forecast official at Louisville, when asked concerning the heavenly exhibition said that with the aid of smoked glass there could be obtained an excellent view. Louisville is not in what is called the path of totality and therefore will not strictly have a sight of the total eclipse. The path of totality extends from Norfolk, Va., to New Orleans and all along this line there will be complete darkness for a brief period. The last total eclipse was in 1889. It has been eleven years since the total eclipse of the sun in this country and it will be eighteen years before there will be another. In Louisville one section of the sun will always be in view.

As is well known the eclipse is caused by the moon passing between the sun and the earth. The obscuration will be plainly visible in North and Central America and the northern portion of South America.

BIG VERDICT.

The Postmaster at Eddyville Wins His Case.

The jury in the Lyon county circuit court last week, awarded T. T. Handberry, postmaster at Eddyville, $10,000 against the I. C. railroad company. He was crippled and nearly killed several months ago in getting off the train on the trestle near the depot at that town. Attorneys Hendrick & Bishop were the plaintiff's lawyers. The case, it is understood, will be appealed.—Paducah News.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

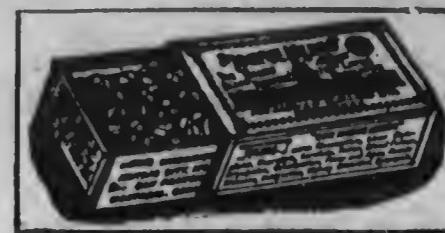

Delegates Appointed to the National Convention at Philadelphia.

Kentucky Republicans held their State Convention at Louisville last week. Ex-Gov. Bradley, W. S. Taylor, George Denny and W. A. Gains, colored, were elected delegates from the State-at-Large to the National convention. The platform endorses McKinley and the legislation enacted by Congress during his term of office; asks ex-Governor Bradley to allow his name to be presented for the nomination for vice-President; demands the repeal of the Goebel election law, denounces the last legislature, commends the course of Taylor when governor, endorses Senator Deboe, and thanks the Brown Democrats for uniting with them in the late election.

RODNEY.

Rodney, Ky., May 21.—While the Western portion of the county is in a fever of excitement over the mining enterprises that are promising so much, old Bells Mines is not without her hopes and expectations, and we think we have something as solid to build upon as any other part of the county, and to be a little confidential, we think that we have a more firm foundation than some others. It is too well known to need repeating that we have as fine beds of coal as there is in the State; there is no speculation, nor surmise, or guess work in this matter. It has been tested for these many years, and is known and read of by all men. The digging and marketing of the coal has been the problem, as we are slightly off of the highways of transportation. But now the rainbow of promise hangs over us, and we expect to become better known. The National Mining Co., has recently secured considerable mining interests here and is beginning to devise ways to place their product on the market. This company now controls the old Bells Mines that was once so successfully operated by John Bell, the famous Tennessean. A short line of railroad, three miles, from the mines to the Ohio river is a probability. The route has been superficially surveyed and it strikes the river at Gahagan's landing. We confidently expect to see the enterprise carried through, and soon the old mines that has been dormant so long, will again spring into activity.

The Paducah Mining Company also has secured coal interests in this section, and is still seeking options, we understand. It has recently purchased ten acres of land at the mouth of Tradewater, which is not mineralized, and is composed of rock and during the whole period of pregnancy. The earlier its use is begun, the more perfectly will the shape be preserved.

In any event we trust that he will soon recover, for he is one of our best citizens.

Mother's Friend not only softens and relaxes the muscles during the great strain before birth, but helps the skin to contract naturally afterward. It keeps unsightly wrinkles away, and the muscles underneath retain their pliability.

Mother's Friend is that famous external liniment which banishes morning-sickness and nervousness during pregnancy; shortens labor and makes it nearly painless; builds up the patient's constitutional strength, so that she emerges from the ordeal without danger. The little one, too, shows the effects of Mother's Friend by its robustness and vigor.

Bryan's Chances This Year—Arthur Sewell Optimistic

Concerning Democratic Prospects—West Against the East.

New York, May 18.—Arthur Sewell, of Maine, who was the candidate for vice-President on the Democratic ticket in 1896 with W. J. Bryan, is in the city. In an interview he said:

"I think Mr. Bryan's chances for election are bright, very bright. In fact, I think he will have a better chance than he had in 1896. Of course, this is upon the supposition, generally admitted, that he will be the candidate."

"Would you accept the Democratic nomination for Vice-President?" was asked.

"No," said Mr. Sewell, promptly and emphatically. "I am out of it; I am positively out of it."

"Whom will the convention nominate for Vice-President?"

"I cannot tell. It would be a mistake to send the nomination into New England. Our candidate for Vice President should be chosen with the idea of getting electoral votes. Mr. Bryan will not carry one New England State. It might be possible to carry New York, if a campaign without mistakes is conducted. If New York State is not honored, the nomination for Vice-President should go to the central west. That would be the practical politics of the situation."

Man in Iowa Uses a Compound That Makes His Hens Lay Double the Usual Number Summer and Winter. Secret of His Success.

People in the neighborhood of Creston, Iowa, are amazed at the number of eggs that this man drives to market with. When asked what was the cause of his hens being so prolific, he stated it was all in a certain compound he was using, that kept his hens in good condition and furnished them with proper stimulus to egg production.

American Poultry Mixture is the name of it, and is made by American Mfg. Co., Terre Haute, Ind.

Every man in the poultry business is interested in the health of his hens and their laying capacity.

BUSINESS

Not What it Was a Year Ago—Factories Are Stopping and Forces Are Decreasing.

New York, May 18.—Bradstreet's says:

Continued dullness in many branches and further shading in several staple lines constitute the leading features in the business situation.

The weakness of prices is displayed in lower quotations for corn, pork, butter, cheese, wool and cotton among agricultural products and petroleum and lead among mineral productions. Wheat is slightly higher, partly owing to less favorable crop reports here and abroad. The continued dryness in the Northwest has given the spring wheat situation less satisfactory appearance and there is little improvement noted in winter wheat sections in the central West. It is doubtful if the dry weather has really affected spring wheat.

Wheat, including flour shipments for this week aggregate 5,178,422 bushels against 3,480,574 last week. Since July 1 exports of wheat are 174,684,428 against 205,270,990 last year.

Corp exports for the week are 3,437,994 against 4,638,140 last week. Since July 1 corn exports are 181,289,209 against 148,023,221 a year ago.

R. G. Dunn & Company's weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

Business is not what it was a year ago. But men do not agree in defining the difference. The working force, then increasing fast, is now decreasing. Works are stopping to relieve the excessive output in the manufactures of paper, cotton, wool, leather and some forms of steel, while prices have been suddenly reduced for the same purposes in lead, wire and nails.

What seems to some merely spring dullness, others think the beginning of the reaction.

GUERRILLA WAR

Will Be Long and Devastating in the Philippines.

Yokohama, May 4, via Victoria, B. C., May 17.—The United States transport Thomas arrived unexpectedly from Manila on Saturday last. Returning officers and men of the army disagree with the optimistic views of the Philippine situation lately held by the press and the public. Everything seems to point to a large and devastating guerrilla warfare, and altogether the outlook is not reassuring.

Much will depend upon the new commission.

FOUR SHOTS.

City Marshall Loyd Puts Four Bullets in Jim Level.

Last Friday five pistol shots were heard in pretty rapid succession by those in the neighborhood of the work-house, and it developed that there was a fight between City Marshal Loyd and a negro named Jim Level. No one was present but the two. According to the report that reaches us, Todd paid deck passage from Elizabethton to Tolu, but persisted in remaining in the cabin; Rhodes shoved him down the first steps, and Todd drew his pistol and fired.

Todd and his brother, Dink, were taken in charge by the officials of the boat and carried to Uniontown, where they were delivered to the city marshal, who brought them to this place yesterday. They will either go to jail or give bond to answer the action of the grand jury.

SHOT THE CLERK.

The Clerk of the Steamer Joe Fowler Shot in the Face.

Monday between Elizabethtown and Tolu, Tom Todd, colored, of this county, shot Clerk Rhodes of the steamer, Joe Fowler; the ball entered the cheek and came out near the ear. The wound is not fatal.

According to the report that reaches us, Todd paid deck passage from Elizabethton to Tolu, but persisted in remaining in the cabin; Rhodes shoved him down the first steps, and Todd drew his pistol and fired.

Level says that he was stooping over to begin work when Loyd began shooting.

One shot struck Level in the ear and was found imbedded in his tongue; another went under shoulder blade and came out near the nipple; another struck the knuckle of the fore finger and was imbedded in the wrist; another cut through the coat collar sidewise, missing Level's body.

A few nights previous while under arrest, Level raised a row with the marshal enroute to the jail, and a fight ensued and the officer received a blow that added him, and when he got up his prisoner was gone. He was arrested at Princeton and brought back Friday morning. Some time ago, he was fined $100 in circuit court for knocking Ed. Perry, a young man, in the head with a rock. While paying his fine in jail, he attacked Jailer Hard with knife, and served a year in the penitentiary. He has the reputation of being a bad negro, and has sustained his reputation pretty well.

The examining trial of Loyd was held before County Judge Rochester Saturday, and he was discharged.

Level was out in a day or two after the shooting and is getting well.

Gov. Beckham in an interview declared it to be a triumph for law and order. He said the cry of "civil liberty" would be met by the cry of protection of human life, and so long as he was Governor both should be had.

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Billiousness. Doctors were scarce and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other other aches.

You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by R. F. Haynes.
